

HEALTH AND SAFETY

DFS provides logistics, passenger charter, workforce transportation, freight, construction and project management services to private and government clients around the world.

Our management team is committed to ensuring the health and safety of everyone impacted by our operations. This includes our employees, contractors, clients, customers and members of the public.

We believe that all incidents, injuries and health impacts are preventable.

SAFETY IS GOOD BUSINESS

WE WILL...

- Comply with all applicable legislated health and safety obligations.
- Identify, assess and mitigate health and safety risks across our operations.
- Establish a documented health and safety program that is practical and effective.
- Provide all resources necessary to ensure proper implementation, review, assessment and ongoing improvement of our health and safety program.
- See that our people understand their health and safety responsibilities and have the knowledge and competency to meet these responsibilities.
- Consult with our employees and contractors on health and safety issues and processes.
- Inspire our employees to be health and safety leaders.
- Have health and safety as a non-negotiable criteria for selecting suppliers.
- Hold our suppliers accountable to our standards of health and safety including legislated and contract obligations.
- For projects, establish plans that prescribe how we will achieve our health and safety objectives.
- Investigate incidents, with a 'no blame' approach to identify root causes and use the knowledge gained to find and implement practical and effective changes that prevent recurrence.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'John Rodenhouse'.

John Rodenhouse, CEO
The Diplomat Group

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dean Bromiley'.

Dean Bromiley, President
The Diplomat Group